Festivities Begin With Annual Coronation of College Royalty

Reigning over Fiesta Day activities on Friday, May 18, will be El Don, Floyd Strain, and La Dona, Laura Perez. Coronation ceremonies will be held at 1 p. m. in the assembly area with Father Donald W. Montrose presiding. The Fiesta will officially begin at that time.

Strain, a former member of the Marine Corps and half-back on the Santa Ana College football team, is a member of Los Caballeros, SAC men's service club who sponsored him as a candidate for the Don election, and is a physical education major. He is a member of the track team, running the 440 in many of the college meets.

Laura Perez is president of Las Gitanas, SAC women's service club which has had a member win the Dona contest for four years in succession. Last year, Carmen, Laura's sister, reigned as La Dona. Laura's selection is appropriate for the occasion, for she is of Spanish and Mexican descent. A business administration major, Laura plans to attend San Jose State College after her graduation from Santa Ana college this June. A member of the SAC tennis team for two years, Laura also enjoys swimming and hunting.

Following the coronation ceremonies, the Don and Dona, costumed in Spanish attire, will welcome the guests and open the Fiesta program.

BEST BEARDS WILL WIN FIESTA AWARD

Follicles and hormones have been working overtime these past two weeks at SAC in preparation for Fiesta Day. Beards for men and pigtailed for women will characterize this momentous occasion. Any hairy variations such as sideburns and handlebar mustaches will quite proper for this informal affair.

College Initiates Old Spanish Custom With Festivities In 1928

By DON MOORE

In the January 21st, 1928 edition of El Don the front page was filled with the big news of the week, that of voting on the official colors for Santa Ana College. In small print at the bottom of the page was a story about someone who thought it would be a good idea to have a celebration similar to the fiestas held in the days of the Spanish Don and Dona.

By the first of May the story about the college colors was forced into the background by a follow-up story about a committee, under the leadership of Thomas H. Glenn, which had presented plans for a fiesta celebration. The main points of the plan called for a six day fiesta which would feature, the crowning of a Din and Dona, a parade, dinners, games, and a huge fiesta ball.

In the next issue, the plans had cut the event from six to five days and the week before fiesta, it was shortened to two days.

On May 18th, 1928 the first fiesta was officially under way with the crowning of Don Pete Lehr and Dona Flora Groenow by Father St. John O'Sullivan of Mission San Juan Capistrano.

The next year the Fiesta was shortened to one day and the committee inaugurated a new feature, a beard contest.

Dance Highlights Gala Celebration

On Friday, May 18, from 9 to 12 p.m. the annual Fiesta dance will be held in the Santa Ana College Student Union.

The dance is a traditional affair culminating an afternoon of student activities. Student body ticket holders will be admitted free. Non-ticket holders will pay $1.20 per person.

Music will be provided by Phil Harris's orchestra. This is the orchestra used on the Jack Benny program and will be directed by Bill Fletcher.

Those responsible for the dance are as follows: Joanne Clark, Student Social Chairman; decorations, Piloteers and Spinsters; publicity, Las Gitanas; refreshments, Las Meninas.

FIESTA UNDERWAY FRIDAY

Student Psychologists Try Wings; Study Questionnaires, Case Histories

By NATE CHROMAN

Psychology reigns supreme in the minds of psychology students these days. The second semester followers of Freud, Gestalt, and James are now making sounds and noises like professional psychologists. In performing experiments which are patterned after those conducted by practicing psychologists, psychology majors are gaining valuable experience in applying what they have learned from George Andrus, department head, to real everyday situations.

These projects were done in many forms ranging from case histories to objective questionnaires. Case histories are clinical studies of human behavior analyzing the subject's behavior from early childhood to the present. In gathering information for the case histories, students go out into the field and interview those people who they suspect of deviating from the normal.

Case Histories Completed

Pat Flaherty found an old woman whose sense of values had completely changed to the extent that she was doing things that were detrimental to Society. At times the venerable old lady could be seen dangling precariously from the center of a ceiling with no hint in the room as to how she could possibly get there. Eventually she was given a royal suite at the "Norwalk Chateau" where she became one of its permanent residents.

It was Nada Phillip's lot to find a young woman who was a mild alcoholic, which Nada diagnosed as resulting from feelings of insecurity progressively being developed from childhood to the present.

Schizophrenic—Split Personality

This writer, also a worshipper at the shrines of psychology, analyzed a young woman who was diagnosed as a schizophrenic, caused by constant bickering with her family and friends. Schizophrenic, for those who don't know, means split personality. Her split personality was evidenced in the fact that she was a college honor student with an unyielding desire to be a dancer in a burlesque show.

Don't conclude that only women are off the beam because only women have been mentioned so far. Time and space does not permit the mentioning of the many males who were studied.

Diana Charlton, using the objective questionnaire method, sought to find out if men are more conscious of advertising slogans than women. She did this by circulating questionnaires with these sample questions. "What products correspond to these slogans?" the beer that made Milwaukee famous, "good to the last drop", and "the pause that refreshes"? After evaluating the results, Diana found that on the whole men are more conscious of advertising slogans than women.

Ink Blot Test

Grace Murakami is conducting experiments using the Rohrsach Ink Blot Test, a test with which the subject is asked to interpret what he sees from the configurations made from a blotting of ink. Emotional patterns and tendencies can be interpreted from the subject's visualizations. At present, Grace has not finished collecting all her ink blots.

The results of these experiments will be heard by the psychology classes who will offer suggestions as to how the patient's condition may be improved. Perhaps you helped in these experiments by filling in a questionnaire. Who knows, maybe you were the subject for a case history...

Edith Becklund Wins Oscarette In Altrusa Club Essay Contest

On Oscarette Achievement Award was presented to Edith Becklund of SAC by the Santa Ana Altrusa Club for her outstanding essay concerning her choice of a vocational career.

The presentation was made last Thursday evening at the club's annual formal dinner. Miss Becklund, currently a freshman, majoring in business administration, read her winning essay, "Medical Secretary," before the assembled group.

"My Choice of Career," was the subject of the contest sponsored by the Vocational Information

Committee of the club. The contest is limited to freshman or sophomore women students under 21 years of age attending Santa Ana College.

Approximately 11 women entered this year's contest. Honorable mention was given to a sophomore and a member of the Del Anso staff at SAC.

WHAT CAN WE DO?

When is it going to stop? Yes! when are the American people going to wake up to the fact that big time gamblers are operating in the U.S. and extorting over $20 billion every year.

Hoodlums like Mickey Cohen, Tony Accardo, Frank Costello and Joe Guzik have made a fortune in what is now known as the gambling profession. Just recently Senator Estes Kefauver and his crime investigation committee exposed these big time crooks, or democracy wreckers, to the public. But are they behind bars? No, because money talks for these men and they can purchase integrity and souls of men.

Big time gambling is not only undermining the right of free enterprise, but the roots of evil are enveloping the legal profession and creeping into politics as well.

WHY THEN DON'T WE DO SOMETHING ABOUT THIS? The main reason is that the people who have the authority to exterminate these money sucking leeches are afraid to act, and the other reason is that Joe Blow down the street does not think these crooks are doing wrong and anyway he gets enjoyment out of walking into the corner cigar store to place a harmless bet. Yes, it's just a harmless bet, but think of ten million so called harmless bets. Joe Blow might win once in a while, but more than likely his money runs away from him faster than the horses he bets on.

This is no trivial problem and it can not be dealt with in a med-

Former El Don Editor Heads Student Delegation To Confab

Maurice Duke, SAC journalism graduate of '49 and presently a senior at San Jose State College was recently appointed head of a fifteen student delegation to attend the Model United Nations Conference at Stanford University on April 26, 27, and 28.

In a recent letter to Carl Venstrom, SAC journalism instructor, Duke stated that the student delegation from San Jose State College "will represent France in the manner she would wish to be represented."

Dr. Bunche Presides

Dr. Ralph Bunche presided over the "General Assembly" and made a major address on Saturday evening, the 28th of April. The whole meeting and Dr. Bunche's address was presented over radio and television. Students from colleges and universities from California, Oregon, Washington, and Idaho attended the assembly.

Active Journalist

SAC students attending the assembly were Sam Uyeda, Charles Lantz and Louis Coldoff.

While at SAC Duke was a reporter, feature writer, and managing editor of the El Don. When Duke was editor of the El Don the college newspaper received high critical scores from the Journalism Departments of the University of Minnesota and Columbia University. Duke was also editor of The Tavern Post, SAC literary magazine, while at SAC.

"New Look" Adorns Campus

What is it? Where is it? Why is it the "New Look" in shrubbery, trees and flowers adorning the campus. SAC agriculture students have undertaken the project as a class activity, according to Paul Andres, agr. instructor.

Shrubs have been planted adjacent to the tennis courts and the dahlia plot has been improved in soil structure through the use of fertilizer. Wax privet and the Ribbon Plant are also being used by the class in plant propagation.

A variety of 16 peach and nectarine trees have been donated to the agriculture classes by A. H. Holland of the University of California Extension Service. The trees are planted in a trial plot to determine their productivity under Southern California weather conditions.

Philodendrons and dracena are just two of the many plants being experimented with in the humidity compartment located in the lath house.

Athletics, Writing Culminate Helen Walker's Interests

"A one-girl guy I'm sure I'll be. Unless another looks at me."
"Got no cats.
Sure got rats.
Got some cats.
Kittens!"
"He stopped;
She turned;
He smiled;
She spurned;
He left;
She burned."

Those are the sort of glib comments resulting when Helen Walker, diminutive, dark-eyed, preteaching student, takes up her pen and begins to write. The above "poems" appeared in this year's issue of "Tavern Post", college literary magazine. When asked what "inspired" her contributions in the "Tavern Post", Helen replied, "Miss Blythe's creative writing class. I had to write something!"

Receives Experience

When she finishes college, Helen would like to become an elementary school teacher. She is receiving experience in the handling of children at the present time as an instructor of swimming for 500 little children at the Santa Ana High school swimming pool. "How do you like those little kids?" we asked her. "Have you ever seen 500 of them together?"

Helen asked, between a laugh and a sigh. She learned the fundamentals of teaching swimming when she attended an aquatic school at Prescott, Arizona, last year.

Born In Arizona

Where did she come from and what does she like to do? "I was born in Phoenix, Arizona, and I was graduated from Grossmont High school in San Diego. I like to swim, and to dance, and to listen to any kind of music—preferably styled by Andre Kostelanetz, and I like my six-toed cat, "Charger".

Helen is a past president of both the Piloteers, women's service club, and the WAA Board. Helen was a member of the Associated Women Students' Board during both her freshman and sophomore years, and has been elected to serve as a member of Las Doncellas, honorary service society. Long Beach State College is to be Helen's next step toward a teaching career, come September 1951.

At the present time Miss Doretti is being sent through drama school to groom her for the role she will play opposite Jeffrey Lynn.

Bloodmobile To Visit College This Wednesday

Santa Ana College students will have the opportunity to answer the Red Cross call for blood donations when the Bloodmobile visits the campus on Wednesday May 16. Donations will be received in the Student Union on that day only, between ten and two o'clock.

Mr. Crain urges all students, faculty members, and college personnel, who have not signed up for the blood mobile's appearance, to do so now in their Physical Education classes, as a member of a group or club, or to come to F-51 where cards are available. He stressed that no red tape is involved in the donations, and that donors need only roll up their sleeve for the operation. Pretty nurses will be on hand to serve refreshments before and after.

The Inter-Club Council has been very active in promoting this project. A goal of 200 pints has been set for Santa Ana College. Sam Uyeda, SAC student, has personally brought in 20 cards signed by donors.

The Bloodmobile visit, sponsored by the Southern Orange County Chapter of the American Red Cross, has a three-fold objective in the current blood donation program. The first is to keep a constant supply of whole blood of all types in the hospitals in Orange County, to be given as transfusions when prescribed by the patient's physician. All blood needs in Orange County hospitals are being met through this program.

Phillips, Drama Instructor Dies

Early on Monday morning, May 14, the final curtain was rung down on the life of Ernest Crozier Phillips, former dean of men and instructor of drama and public speaking at Santa Ana College. A heart attack in his home at 2121 S. Foothill Blvd., Lemon Heights, called the beloved teacher from his sleep to take his final bow.

After touring for two years with the celebrated Shakespearian actress, Madame Modjeska, Mr. Phillips joined the Santa Ana high school teaching staff in 1911. In 1915, he became a member of the first teaching staff at Santa Ana College where he served until his resignation in 1949.

A major role was played by Mr. Phillips in organizing the Santa Ana Community Players. In 1921, he directed the first full length production of that group. Among Santa Ana students of Mr. Phillips who have successfully made the stage their profession are Jocelyn Brando, who held the part of the only woman in "Mr. Roberts," a Broadway production, and Harriet Abrams, known for her performances in "The Two Mrs. Carrolls" and "Cocktail Party."

Saddened upon receiving news of the well-known teacher's death, faculty and students mourned the loss and expressed their continued admiration of Mr. Phillips' warmth of personality.

Students who plan to take the test must apply at their local draft board for an application blank. No student can take the test without first applying and then received a ticket number stating the time and place where he should take the deferment test.

Bob Levin, Engineering Major Awarded Stanford Scholarship

A yearly $1,000 scholarship for the next two years was granted to Robert E. Levin, SAC sophomore engineering student, this week by Stanford University. Levin competed for this scholarship with second year junior college students throughout the state of California.

The scholarship is officially called "The Junior Transfer Engineering Scholarship" and is open to second year junior college students transferring to Stanford University.

Levin lives at 1415 Durant Street, Santa Ana, and is a graduate of Santa Ana High School. He was an honor student at the high school and has been an honor student here at the college.

Electrical Engineering Major

During the past two years at SAC, Levin has majored in electrical engineering and has studied under engineering instructor Harold A. Moomaw.

To obtain practical experience here at Santa Ana College in the field of electrical engineering, Levin has been in charge of the stage lighting for the college drama department. He has been an active "behind the scene man" on every production the drama department has produced during the past two years.

SAC Writers Sell Stories

Spring Creative Writing sales are bursting out all over, according to Miss Lota Blythe, Creative Writing instructor, refuting any rumor to the contrary. She stressed that sales can be made, and that writers can market their material.

Bearing out these claims, several Creative Writing students have recently sold various of their masterpieces. Mrs. Elizabeth Granger, an Evening division student, sold two poems and an article to a trade journal, and one poem to the Wall Street Journal.

Mrs. Harriet Butler is regularly selling verse to "Desert", "Arizona Highways", "The Wildfire Magazine of Poetry", the "Wall Street Journal", "This Day", "The Kansas City Poetry Magazine," and the "Saturday Evening Post," all in 1951.

Mrs. B. M. Merker is preparing an article for "Parents" magazine on an assignment from that magazine, while Mrs. Joan White of Anaheim is writing a newspaper column and articles.

Mrs. Maher, who is now on the day campus, received a check for an article that she wrote last year in the evening division Creative Writing Class.

SAC Graduate Honored By UCLA

Word has been received by Miss Blythe, Spinster advisor, that Phyllis Wetherall, 1940 SAC graduate and ex-Spinster member, will have her Doctor's dissertation published soon by the University Press of U.C.L.A. The dissertation is entitled "Everybody Sing".

Phyllis, now Dr. Phyllis Bultmann, in her dissertation "Everybody Sing", makes a study of the influence of hymns on the political and social development of English life.

After leaving SAC, Dr. Bultmann went to U.C.L.A., where she received her M.A. in 1943. She then taught one semester at Santa Ana High School, after which she returned to U.C.L.A. and did assistant teaching in the History Department there while working on her Ph. D.

She completed her dissertation in January 1950, was married, and joined her husband on the faculty of State Teachers' College at Conway, Arkansas.

"Where's Charley?" Seen By Tattlers

An afternoon at the Huntington Library in Pasadena, dinner in Los Angeles, and an evening at a performance of "Where's Charley?" starring Ray Bolger, were highlights of the annual Tavern Tattlers', Santa Ana College literary society, annual field trip attended last week by 18 club members and their advisors, Miss Lota E. Blythe and Leonard C. Henard.

This week's meeting of the group, held in the Student Union lounge and presided over by Dean Gautschi, club president, featured a program of modern poetry presented by Nayan McNeill, and a report on the English poet, T. S. Eliot, given by Kenneth Cave.

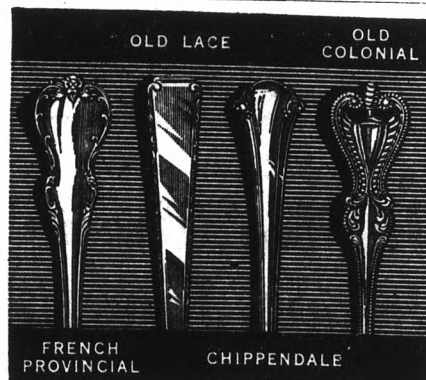

Awards are now being determined for excellency in prose and poetry appearing in "Tavern Post", literary magazine edited each year by the Tavern Tattlers, according to Miss Blythe. Award winners will be announced in the final issue of "El Don" and awards will be presented during "June Jubilee", annual spring banquet being held this year in the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach.

STUDENT DELEGATES TELL EXPERIENCES AT MODEL U.N.

By EDWARD SCOTT

Returned from the model U.N. conference, held at Stanford University are Sam Uyeda, Louis Codoff, and Charles Lantz. The three Santa Ana College students representing Venezuela were among students from some sixty colleges and universities who acted as delegates of the various nations of the U.N.

Gets Little Sleep

"Just wonderful, every moment was so exciting and educational," was Sam's first comment. "In fact it was so exciting, I only slept about fifteen hours during the five day's trip". While traveling to the conference Charles, Sam and Louis became so engrossed in the Truman-MacArthur issue they were discussing, that they drove twenty miles past Fresno.

Before leaving for the conference the student delegates had conferred with the Venezuelan Consulate as to the views of that nation in order to understand and express the opinions of Venezuela rather than their own.

All the student delegates were addressed by Dr. Claude Bunch, former president of the General Assembly and Nobel Peace Prize winner. The Korean issue was discussed by the General Assembly and ended with the resolutions that: 1. That there be an immediate cease fire. 2. That there be set up a committee to investigate the situation. 3. That there be no appeasement.

Latin American Block

Venezuela working with other Latin American countries, helped to organize a Latin American Bloc which through political and economic unity would enable the smaller countries to counter balance the power of the half-dozen large nations in the U.N.

Sam Uyeda, in expressing his views, said, "I fully realize that the U.N. has received too much publicity in what they have not done and very little in what they have accomplished. And though there is much weakness in the charter, I have completely lost my sceptical views toward the U.N. The U. N. is the foundation of the hopes of mankind and our challenge is to strengthen the foundation by understanding the 'whys and wherefores' of the events at Lake Success and its charter."

"Mere Well Wishers"

"We all want the objectives of the U.N. to go through but being a mere 'well wisher' will not suffice. Such an irresponsible attitude caused the failure of the League of Nations long ago. It is my sincere hope that more SAC students will attend the model U.N. next year at U.C.L.A. and give full support to the U.N."

Sam Uyeda leaves us with the serious thought, "Today's Best Hope for Peace Is the U.N. Plan You".

Piloteers Go To Steak Bake

Hoping for a sunny day the Piloteers will travel to Irvin Park where they will hold a "Steak Bake" according to Miss Ruth Bradley, club advisor.

NEWMANS PREPARE TWILIGHT PICNIC

Miss Marie Pound, Newman club advisor, stated today that plans were being made for a twilight picnic. It is to be held at Santiago Park on May, 29. It will consist of all Newman club members and their guests.

With the coming of Fiesta Day the Newman club is preparing to perform its annual duty which is the crowning of the "Don" and "Donna". Father Montrose of St. Joseph's Catholic church of Santa Ana will present the awards to the winners.

TRANSFER FORMS OFFERED VETERANS

"Veterans who are planning to transfer to other schools, and those who are changing their objectives, must make application to the Veterans Administration at once while still in training," stated Ernest Crain, veterans' adviser, today.

Don Baseball, Track Teams Annex Conference Crowns

Ovalmen Nip Mt. San Antonio For All-Conference Team Title

Well, the Dons had the last laugh. Several weeks ago Mt. San Antonio robbed SAC out of a dual circuit championship by only a few points. Last Friday the tracksters sought revenge by capturing the All-Conference team crown in the finals held at Fullerton.

Santa Ana recorded 58 13/14 points to Mt. San Antonio's 52 6/7 and Fullerton placed a close third by scoring 48 13/14 digits. Although the Dons had the upper hand during the most of the meet, the final decision rested with the mile relay event. If the Mounties could have managed to win this event they could have taken the meet by a few points.

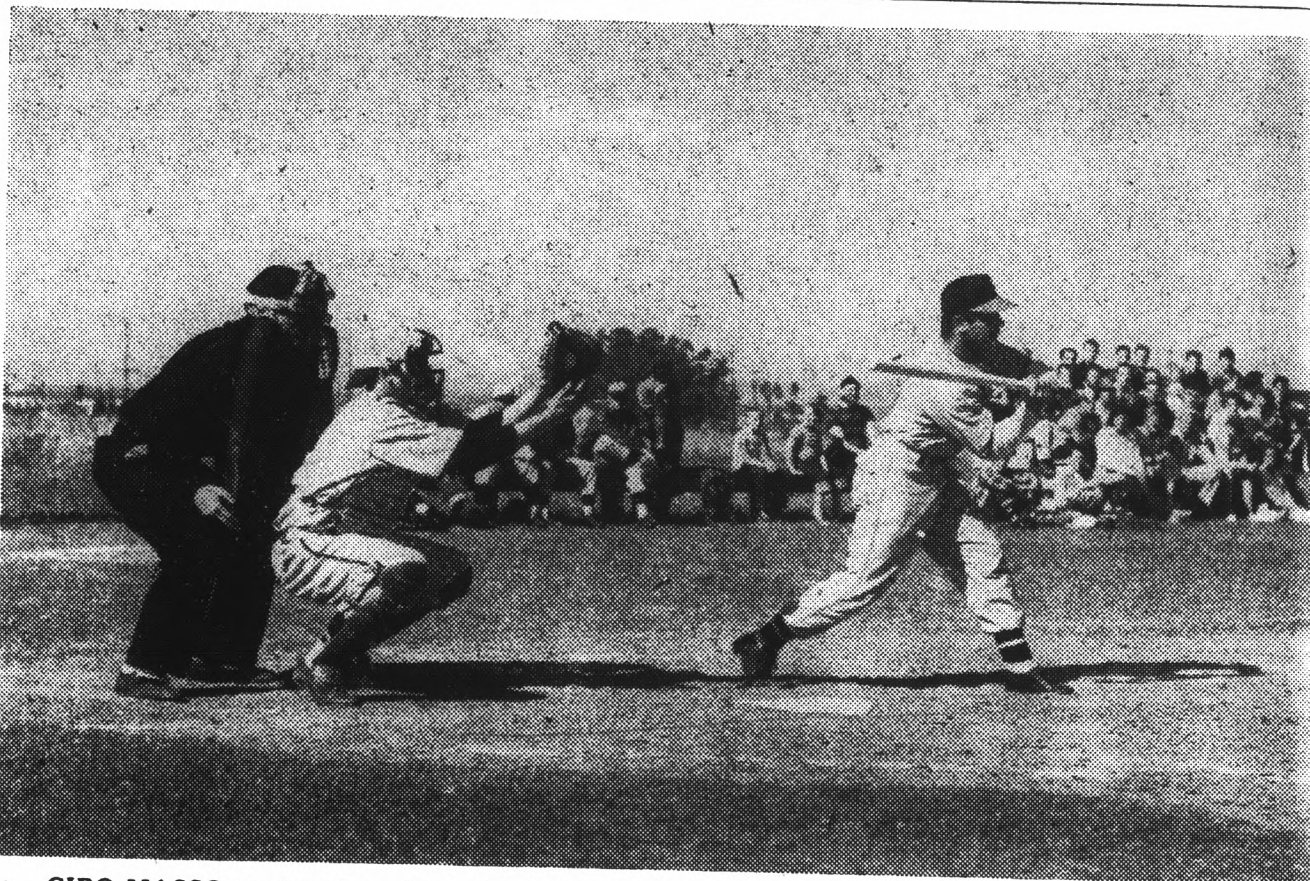

Milers Win

Ward's mile relay team, composed of Curtis Meade, Jack Lucas, Burns Srigley and Floyd Strain, had no intention of letting the Mountain Boys ruin their hopes again, so with cinders flying the Dons recorded a tie for first in the event.

Two meet records met their Waterloo and one was equalled.

Sturdy Howard Hertz of Mt. SAC heaved the shot 49 ft. 9 1/2 in. to set a new mark, breaking the old distance of 48 ft. 1 in. set in 1940 by Lou Batinski of Fullerton. Floyd Hanson of Riverside decided the sky was the limit and vaulted 13 ft. 4 1/2 in. The feat broke Kenny Beck's 1942 record of 13 ft. 3 in. Conference hurdle champ Jack Acree of Mt. SAC streaked to a record time of 14.7 sec in the highs to tie a mark held jointly by Bill Brown of Fullerton and Darrel Kreitz of Chaffey.

Leonard Thornton won the mile in 4min35.5s while Jack (Upset) Lucas broke the tape in the 880 at 2min.33.3s and Bob Umphress scored a first in the 100 in 10s flat to record firsts for the Dons in their quest for honors.

WHO WON?—according to the place judge at the conference track finals, Roger Hendrix of Fullerton and Floyd Strain, who is shown above breaking the tape, tied in the final lap of the mile relay.

Horsehidiers Sink OC Pirates 11-4 To Lead Conference

By defeating the Orange Coast College baseball team 11-4 last Friday at Costa Mesa, the Dons moved into the Eastern Conference lead by 1-2 games with only two games remaining on the league schedule.

Massing an eighteen hit attack in which all nine Santa Ana players got one or more hits, the Dons slowly pulled away from the Pirates until they were far out in front for an easy victory.

Jerry Brancato led the attack with three hits in four trips to the plate while Ciro Masso and Denny Sampson each collected three hits in five times at bat. Jack Goetting, 'Hockey' Noel and 'Whitey' Hover collected two for five while Minard Duncan, Joe Malone and Pete Fazio got one hit apiece.

Pete Fazio and Jerry Brancato supplied the big punch with a home run apiece while 'Hockey' Noel rapped out two doubles. Fazio went all the way on the mound and received his seventh conference win in nine starts. Although the game was loosely played, the Dons committed six errors in the field, they more than made up for it at the plate as they out hit the Pirates 18 hits to 7.

Santa Ana WA In 6-1 Tennis Loss

Santa Ana's WAA lost their tennis match at Fullerton May 3 with Aurora Valles the only one from SAC to win her match.

Laura Perez was defeated 6-1, 6-2 in the first singles and the third singles was won by Fullerton on a default.

Betty Lancaster and Marilyn Vanderbush put up a rugged fight before going down in games of 7-5 and 8-6, Carol Kern teamed up with Pat Adams to give Fullerton a run for their money before losing 7-5 and 6-1. Barbara Conner and Valora Hobson lost the third doubles match 6-4 and 6-1.

Dons Take Conference Title With 3-1 Victory Over Tigers

Santa Ana baseball Dons became Eastern Conference champions last Friday when they battled to a 3-1 victory over the second place Riverside Tigers at the Memorial Park field, while neighboring Orange Coast College was handing Mt. San Antonio a 4-3 defeat in another pitcher's battle.

The defeat puts Mt. SAC and Riverside in a tie for second place, leaving Santa Ana a game and a half in the lead at the end of their schedules.

Fazio and Miller Battle

Santa Ana's Pete Fazio and Riverside's Duke Miller both pitched a tight ball game as they gave up only four hits each. With not more than one hit in any single inning. Fazio tamed seven Tigers on strike outs, while Miller struck out six Dons. The only extra base hit of the afternoon was off the bat of Jock Goetting in the seventh inning, all the other hits were singles for both teams.

Dons Score in Second Inning

'Hockey' Noel led off the second inning by reaching first base after being hit by a pitched ball, he advanced to second and came in to score as Denny Sampson reached first on an error. Sampson went to third on two infield outs and scored on 'Whitey' Hover's single to right field.

Fazio Misses a Shutout

After pitching scoreless ball for five innings, 'Pistol' Pete Fazio lost his chance for a shutout as Riverside's Delgadillo singled and moved to second on an error, he finally scored as the ball got past the infield for another error.

The Dons bounced right back with a run in the seventh as Ciro Masso took first base on a walk and scored when Jack Goetting hit a long ball to right center field. Jack's hit was held to a double by Riverside's fast fielding right fielder.

Masso Makes Wining Catch

With two out in the ninth inning and a runner on first base, the Dons lead almost collapsed when the Riverside batter drove a long ball to center field, but Ciro Masso made a running one hand catch of the ball for the third and final out of the ball game.

Dons Again In 5-4 Ball Game

Pennant hopes of the Santa Ana Dons received a sharp blow with a 5-4 loss to Mt. San Antonio College last Tuesday on the Mt. SAC diamond.

In an effort to stretch their conference lead, the Dons engaged the Mounties in the first of their last two crucial games of the Eastern Conference baseball league and came out on the short end of a 5-4 count. Mt. SAC drew first blood as they scored one run in the first inning, but Santa Ana bounced back to take the lead by chalking up two runs in the second inning on singles by 'Hockey' Noel and Denny Sampson plus an error on a throw to the infield.

Big Sixth Inning

The Dons opened their half of the sixth inning with two more runs on two walks and singles by Joe Malone and Pete Fazio to gain an impressive 4-1 lead with only one and a half innings to play. The Mounties came to bat in their half of the sixth and got their first man on base via a walk, but seemed to be stopped as the next batter hit into a double play.

With two out, the Mt. SAC team came alive and broke out in a rash of base hits along with a walk. Mountie pitcher Bob Lombard blasted a triple to right field with one teammate on base and was followed by three successive singles. After the smoke had cleared the Mounties had scored four runs to take the lead 5-4 with one inning to go. The Dons were unable to push across a run in their half of the seventh and the game ended as the Santa Ana players wondered what had happened.

Highlights Of Baseball Season In Eastern Conference Play

By HARRY HOVER

Victimizing the Fullerton Hornets 7-6 in the opening game of the Conference season, the Santa Ana College baseball team began its quest for conference crown.

Behind the effective pitching of Pete Fazio, the Dons battled the defending champions right down to the last when Jim Hinkle broke up the ball game with a home run in the eighth inning.

Duncan Hits Home Run

Next the Dons took the San Bernardino nine 10-4 in a game called after five and a half innings because of darkness. Jumping to a fast start, the SAC team collected four runs in the first inning which was highlighted by 'Hockey' Noel's triple with two teammates aboard. In the second inning Minard Duncan belted the ball past the outfielders and made it a home run scoring Pete Fazio ahead of him.

Fazio Strikes Out Eleven

In their third conference game the Dons traveled to Chaffey College and disposed of them 10-2 as Pete Fazio struck out eleven batters while his teammates collected nine hits to win an easy victory.

Malone Gets Four Bagger

Santa Ana jumped to an early lead as they scored five runs in the first and third innings to coast to an easy victory over Orange Coast 10-5. Joe Malone blasted a home run in the first inning with one man on base.

Blow 4-2 Lead

The Dons suffered their first loss of the season 6-5, as the Mt. San Antonio College team bunched three extra base hits and a walk in the first half of the ninth to wipe out the 4-2 lead Santa Ana possessed. The Dons came back in their half of the ninth with one run and had the bases loaded, but were not able to push across another run.

Don Claw Tigers

Traveling to Riverside, the Dons gathered three runs in the first and last innings to win a 6-3 decision over the Tigers to remain in first place with a record of five wins and one loss.

Stung By Hornets

Starting the second round of conference play, the Dons suffered their second setback of the season 4-3, as the Fullerton pitchers held the Santa Ana team to three hits. Jack Goetting collected two of the hits while Ciro Masso got the other one. The Dons still led the league with five wins and two defeats.

Indians Scalped 10-4

In the game at San Berdo, the Dons massed their twelve hits to win a 10-4 decision over the two time losers. Joe Malone was the winning pitcher as he and Pete Fazio effectively scattered the San Bernardino hits.

Down Chaffey 13-4

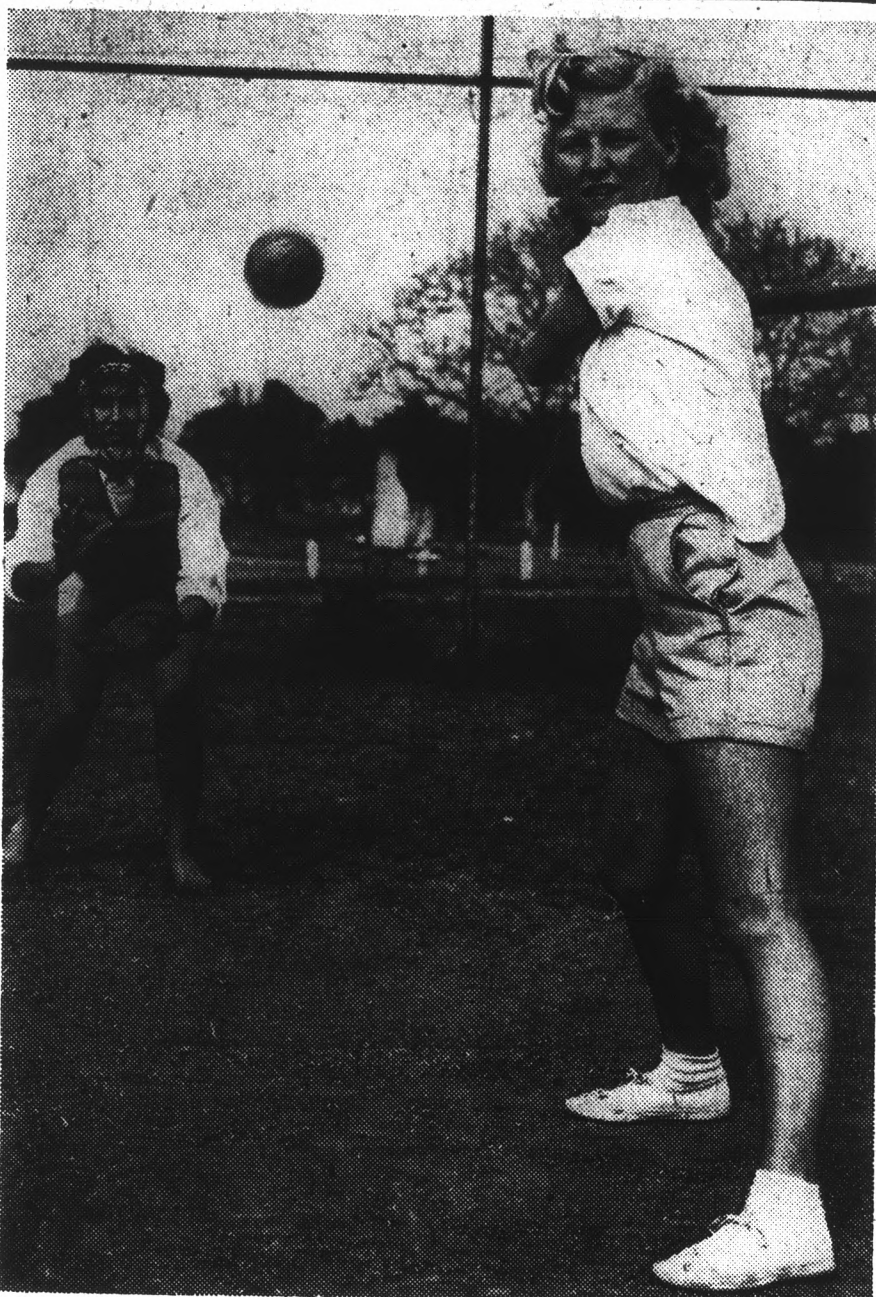

A big five run first inning and a six run fourth inning paved the way for an easy 13-4 victory over the Chaffey College nine. Pitcher Pete Fazio collected two hits in four times at bat as he helped to win his own game by blasting a triple in the fourth inning with two teammates on base.

Dons Take Pirates 11-4

Pete Fazio and Jerry Brancato each collected home runs with teammates on board to win an 11-4 victory. The Dons rapped out eighteen hits to score their eighth win in ten starts.

Mt. SAC Downs Dons 5-4

In a four run uprising with two out in the sixth inning, the Mt. San Antonio College nine dampened the Dons hopes for the conference title in a close 5-4 decision. Pete Fazio had things under control and enjoyed a 4-1 lead until the roof caved in as Mt. SAC scored four runs and took the lead 5-4 going into the last inning. This put Santa Ana, Mt. SAC and Riverside in a 1st. place tie in the conference standings.
